

2003 Legislative Survey Results

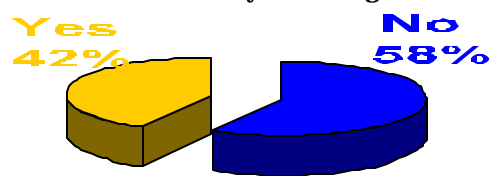

1. Should Indiana provide parents with state-funded vouchers to send their children to any participating school: public, private, or religious?

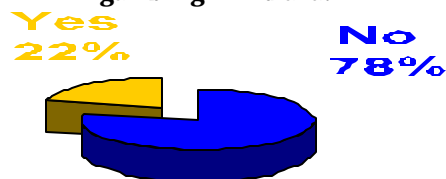

2. Should Indiana increase its budget for attracting new jobs, even if it requires funding cuts in health care, the environment and other state programs?

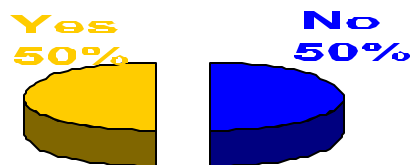

3. Should Indiana offer a student loan-forgiveness program to college students who agree to live and work in the state for a certain number of years after graduation?

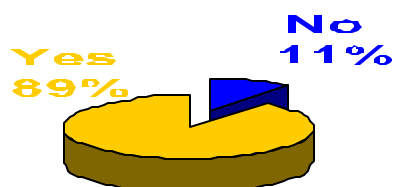

4. Do you favor a further expansion of gambling in Indiana?

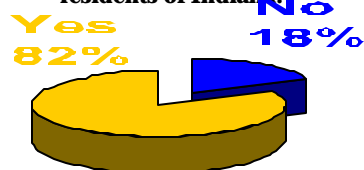

5. Do you support day-light saving time throughout Indiana?

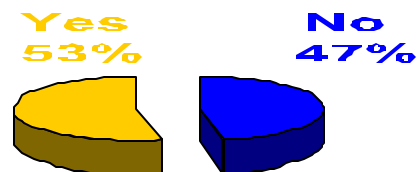

6. Should the state law be changed to require abortion clinics to meet the same health standards as outpatient health care centers?

7. Should the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission have the authority to stop business mergers involving utilities serving residents of Indiana?

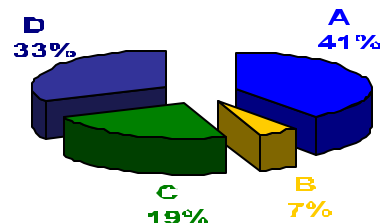

8. Do you feel that Indiana should redirect welfare funding to faith-based and community based private organizations?

9. The sluggish Indiana economy is contributing to an ongoing shortfall in the state budget. Which one of the following do you most favor to address the budget problems?

- A. Cut spending on state programs (including prison, natural resources, health and social services, among others);
- B. Cut state funding to local public schools;
- C. Cut state spending to state supported higher education institutions; or
- D. Temporarily suspend the auto excise tax cut (funded through gambling profits) and use the funds to support state services.

10. Indiana provides 23 optional services to those who qualify for Medicaid, such as home health care services and family planning services, except in the case of abortions. Should Indiana reduce these optional services to help contain Medicaid costs?

